Four-sided architecture extends design details from front to back of each home in this charming community. Dormers, gable accents and standing seam metal porch roofs instill timeless character to these new single family homes. The first floor features oak hardwood and nine-foot ceilings with crown molding throughout. Upstairs, the loft space is a perfect hangout for children or grandchildren but can flex to a hobby room or office. Although this quaint community is not age-restricted, its low maintenance lifestyle and traditional charm is enticing for empty nesters and 55+ active adults.
