Westgate at The Glen is the last remaining parcel in the award-winning master planned community developed on the site of the former Glenview Naval Air Station. This maintenance-free community features single family and multifamily homes designed to appeal to a wide range of buyers from young families to active adults. Following the New Urbanist themes of The Glen, Westgate's mews townhomes and rowhomes are alley loaded to enhance the streetscape and walkability of the community. The scale and architectural style complements the landscaped grounds, walking paths, pocket parks and serene pond to create a relaxed neighborhood atmosphere.
