In this prime location east of downtown Denver, maximizing space was a key design consideration. Yet at only 24 feet wide, these units offer expansive great room layouts, lots of natural light and even private outdoor living. Savvy buyers in this market expect high design, so the elevation is enhanced by a mix of flat and shed style roofs, bold color and varied cladding to create interest. Warm and open interiors offer three bedrooms and flex space for a fourth bedroom, home office or a second family room. The Alpine Collection is ideal for buyers seeking a suburban setting in proximity to shops, restaurants and entertainment.
